Dear Members,

This past Monday August 29, 2022, the American Arbitration Association counted the ballots for the election for officers and borough delegates of CWA Local 1182. On our website you can see the full results from the American Arbitration Association.

Syed Rahim has won the position of President.

For the position of Vice President Alexander Sadik received 616 votes. He did not receive the majority of the votes counted so there will be a runoff between Alexander Sadik and Albert Sloh.

For the position of Secretary/ Treasurer Syed Islam and Shahjahan Mohammad both received 415 votes so there will be a runoff between Syed Islam and Shahjahan Mohammad.

For the office of Manhattan Delegates Utba Syed received 697 votes which was the majority. The second spot for the office of Manhattan Delegate will have a runoff between Alam Mohammed and Sadananda Halder.

For the Office of Brooklyn/ Staten Island Delegates no candidate received a majority so there will be a runoff between Shadat Hossain, Uddin Mohammad and Dibakar Sen.

For the office of Bronx/ Queens Delegates no candidate received a majority so there will be a runoff between Pankaj Roy, Mohammed Islam and Torres Paredes.

All members will be notified when the American Arbitration Association provides us with a new date for the runoff election.

Once the runoff election is completed and the new Executive Board is elected, they will be required to participate in CWA New Officer Training. After the training is completed, and Ricky Morrison believes the Local will be ready to handle their own affairs he will then recommend to the National Executive Board that the temporary administration be ended. When the Executive Board removes the Temporary Administration, your Executive Board will be sworn in and will take office immediately.

Thank you to all the members for their cooperation and support. If you have any questions or concerns, please reach out to the Election Committee cwa1182election2022@gmail.com.
